FOREWORD

The following pages constitute the initial unit of a projected inventory of the more important holdings of the Historical Foundation. This survey is designed to present the basic chronology of the courts of the Presbyterian and Reformed churches, together with an indication of the records and minutes to be found in the institution. In addition, certain notes have been inserted throughout the text in an effort to supply serviceable information relative to these courts and the materials in which their proceedings have been incorporated.

Scope

Entries representing the Presbyterian Church in the United States (including the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., in the South before 1861, together with presbyteries formerly in connection with Southern synods, though lying without the South) and the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church embrace all courts above the local session. Other minutes enumerated are chiefly those of the highest assemblies of the bodies to which they relate. Such New School synods and presbyteries have been introduced as appear to have directly influenced the history of the Presbyterian Church, U. S.

Specific information regarding sessional records in custody of the Historical Foundation will be supplied on request.

Arrangement

Presbyteries and extinct synods have been entered under that existing synod with which they are logically associated. The indices on pages 4-6 will facilitate reference to a particular court.

Since numerous presbyteries have functioned under the jurisdiction of more than one synod, such relationships, if not indicated by the listings of the synods, are set forth under the entries for the presbyteries concerned. These synodical connections are not ordinarily traced beyond the territory covered by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S.

A synod or presbytery which disappeared from the rolls and was later reconstituted has been accorded a separate entry for each period of existence, distinction being achieved through the use of small roman letters. Entirely different courts bearing identical names are distinguished in like manner, except where the more exact designation for the New School serves a similar purpose.

Chronology and Comment

A date in parentheses, following the name of a particular synod or presbytery, is that of erection by a higher court, save where a note is inserted to the contrary, although actual organization may not have been effected until the following year. In case of a supreme judicatory, the date denotes erection by an earlier body if such action was involved, otherwise, the year of the first meeting. Dates assigned to the Woman's Auxiliary are those of organization. A second date, introduced after a dash and without subsequent explanation, is that of dissolution or change of name.

Records and minutes in the Historical Foundation are listed immediately after the chronology of the court which they represent.

The term "Renamed" is occasionally employed in a general sense, in that the second body varies in regard to boundaries from its forerunner, though substantially and legally serving as successor.

Nature of Materials

Manuscript materials in the Archives of the Historical Foundation are distinguished from other minutes by the use of bold-faced type*. Such deposits have been given preferential listing over printed minutes. Thus there are numerous instances in which holdings of the latter type are not specified, since they duplicate records which are available in manuscript form.

Holston NS (1826) 1-Apr1923, Sept23/
S of Tenn a, 1826-38; NS, 38-58; United S, 58-64; Nash, 64-1901; Tenn c, 01-15. Records of both Holston OS and Holston NS begin with the first meeting of the undivided P, 1827, those of the NS being the originals. In 1865, the reunited P ordered that the NS record book, with page numbering beginning anew, be used by the Clerk. Articles of Union adopted by the GA and the United S had recommended that in such cases "that P shall hold its name and succession which has the major number of ministers." In this instance the numbers were equal.

SNEDECOR MEMORIAL

SYNOD

Snedecor Memorial (1917) 1-1937...
In 1916, a reorganization of the Afro-American S, originally constituted in 1897 as an independent body, was effected; and the name of the court was changed to General S in the United States. The P's of Central Alabama and Ethel, of the Presbyterian Church, US, were then received into the S. This arrangement did not receive the sanction of the GA, meeting during the following week, which did, however, authorize the reorganization of the Afro-American S under the Assembly's auspices, with the understanding that the resultant court was to bear a name of its own choosing. Snedecor Memorial was the ultimate selection.

Charleston (1839)...s1854...f58-s59...s92...s1909...f13...f14/
A P known as South Carolina, also designated as Charleston and as the P of the Province, existed as early as the late 1720's; and was dissipated by the fall of Charleston, May 12, 1780. After the Revolution, it was succeeded by a second early Charleston P, which was incorporated, 1790. Neither of these two bodies was in connection with the Presbyterian Church, USA. The records of the present Charleston P were lost in transit between Clinton, S. C. and Charleston, some time prior to 1920.

Charleston Union (1822-52) none
S of S C and Ga, 1822-39; independent, 39-52. Renamed Charleston by S in 1839 after a majority had renounced the jurisdiction of that body, but continued as independent by dissenters. Reentered the Presbyterian Church, USA, and united with Charleston P.

Central Texas (1854) 1-Feb1921, s21/
Denominated "the Central" in the act of S of Texas, meeting in Apr 1854, whereby the P was erected, and so reported to the GA of that year. The designation "Central P" appears frequently until about 1860. The S of 1872 took the following unusual action: "On motion the word 'Texas' was inserted after 'Central' in the minutes of 1854, Vol. I, p 11 in the Minutes organizing that P, so that it will now read 'P of Central Texas.'"
